UNIVERSITY OF MONTEVALLO
NATIONAL HISTORIC DISTRICT
Originally named Alabama Girls' Industrial School and later Alabama College, this institution was founded Oct. 12, 1896, by the Alabama Legislature. It was the state college for women until 1956, when it became coeducational. In 1969 the name was changed to the University of Montevallo. In Dec., 1978, the central portion of the campus was listed in the National Register of Historic Places. The oldest buildings are King House and Reynolds Hall (1851

WELCOME TO UM,

A New Beginning At UM

THIS PART OF THE
UNIVERSITY OF MONTEVALLO
CAMPUS IS LISTED IN THE NATIONAL REGISTRY
of HISTORIC PLACES
WILL YOU HELP US KEEP IT CLEAN & GREEN?

The University of Montevallo is not unfamiliar with changes. On the contrary, its history shows very dramatic ones. UM first opened its doors in 1896 under the name of Alabama College, a school for women. Imagine the controversy in 1956 — Alabama College actually allowed MEN to enroll. Can you believe it? Today it would be difficult to imagine UM without men. However, it was quite a controversial issue in the 50's. Perhaps one of the most significant changes came in 1969. Alabama College became the University of Montevallo, signifying our school's growth as an institution of higher learning.

UM continued in the tradition of changes during the 88-89 school year. The number of students increased tremendously due to the elimination of the 2600 student limit on enrollment. The University also halted the construction of a proposed athletic complex, dedicated a new golf course, and appointed Interim President John Stewart to the position of President of UM. With the appointment of President Stewart, the administration hoped to bring "A New Beginning" to the University of Montevallo.

WHAT A DAY!

Moving In

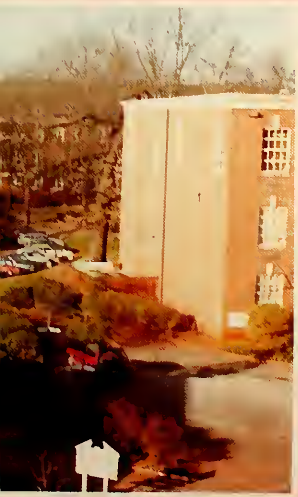
New beginnings often involve a huge amount of hard work. This is certainly the case at UM. On August 28, 1988, students began arriving on campus. The scorching summer sun made the task of moving into dorms a difficult and tiring one. Luckily, there were many helpful people on hand to help make the experience as painless as possible.

Moving into UM was made a little easier by the family and friends who helped us carry our belongings up countless flights of stairs. Fortunately, there was lots of free lemonade to satisfy our thirst after the move was over.

The process of moving in was also made easier by the work of the Hall Directors and Resident Assistants. These hard working individuals helped coordinate the moving in process as well as answer thousands of questions about dorm life.

Different Perspectives

UM's students see the campus from many beautiful and exciting angles. These views are as unique as the varied personalities of those people who attend the University of Montevallo.



Where To Begin?

The University of Montevallo is well known for its tradition of College Night (Purples — Upper Right and Golds — Lower Left). In 1988, the Purple Victory Production, "The Perils of Nadine," had the honor of winning the College Night competition. Another fascinating production on campus was the Children's Theatre's production of "Land of the Dragon" (Lower Right).

The possibilities at UM are almost endless. Students have a wide variety of activities in which to participate. The University of Montevallo offers everything from outdoor concerts, laser light shows, movies, athletics, dances, and of course our beloved College Night — the event that could be called the very heart and soul of UM. Whatever a student's interest may be, UM has it.

SPRINGFEST 1989

Party in The Pasture

April 13, 1989 was a special day at the University of Montevallo. Not only was it Honors Day, but it was also a day to help those in need. Party in The Pasture was an event organized by Nastaran Naseroleslam assisted by SGA. Booths were donated by various dorms in order to make money for the Shelby County Emergency Relief Fund. In addition, music was provided by various area bands and dinner was served by the Cafe.

THE TRADITION CONTINUES

Class of 1939

The University of Montevallo's Homecoming Celebration brings reunions of former classes. UM's graduates return to Montevallo's beautiful campus to relive memories and to meet with friends from years past. These outstanding graduates are the source of pride of the University of Montevallo.

The tradition of excellence continues with the students of today. These energetic people add to the unique charm of our institution. It is the student body that makes UM special.

The University of Montevallo's Cheerleading Squad provided motivation and school spirit at all athletic events this year. These dedicated students cheered the Falcons to victory and consoled them in defeat. UM's Cheerleaders also helped promote excitement among the faithful fans of the Falcon athletic program. Without the spark of electricity created by these students, athletics at Montevallo would certainly lose that competitive spirit.

The Pride of UM

Coach Rob Spivery's UM Falcon basketball team ended an exciting season with a 23-5 record overall. The 23 wins tied the school record for victories in one season. In addition, Chris Harrel and District 27 Player of the Year Bobby Joe Jackson were named to the All-District 27 squad. For Coach Rob Spivery and his Falcons, the 88-89 season was one of success and pride.

Batter Up!

For UM Baseball Coach Bob Riesener, it was a year to remember. Coach Riesener saw win 600 with the defeat of Miles College in April. With this win, he joined the elite of baseball. Only Coach Rudy Abbott of Jacksonville State and former Coach Paul Nix of Auburn have reached the 600 win mark.

For UM Sophomore Rusty Greer, this year was especially memorable. As a Freshman, Greer placed All-District 27, All-Area V, and Honorable Mention All American. In the Fall of 1988, he was chosen to play for Team USA at the 1988 Harbour Tournament in Taipei, Taiwan. As a player for Team USA, Greer also had an opportunity to travel with the squad during its 1989 Summer tour of the United States.

Teamwork!

The Lady Falcons Volleyball Team had quite an impressive year. Not only did these talented athletes have a 41-7 record during the 88-89 season, but they also placed fourth nationally and received the national tournament's Sportmanship Award. Individual team members Denise Heisler and Latanja Thomas were named First Team All-Americans as well. In addition, coach Judy Green had the distinction of being named the South Region National Coach of the Year at the American Volleyball Coaches Association's National Convention in Minneapolis, Minnesota. What's It Gonna Be?

College Night 1989

Once again the University of Montevallo was filled with cries of, "What's it gonna be?!" Yes, College Night fever quickly spread to Purples and Golds alike in the annual competition to see which side would have sweet victory.

To an outsider of the University of Montevallo, College Night is a concept that might seem a bit "weird." However, as any person who has ever participated in this honored tradition can tell you, College Night is more than just "a couple of plays." On the contrary, it is far more! Perhaps Dr. Lucille Griffith said it best in her book, History of Alabama College, "If you have never lived through one, never cried, laughed or sweated through one, know this. It is the crest of the wave of college spirit. It is the high spot that will stand out in your mind as meaning college when all the rest has faded" (as stated by a former College Night leader in 1931).

Joe Howard, SGA President had the privilege of revealing the choice made by the secret judges. And the winner was . . . Purples!!! The PV participants knew that the hard work was worth it.

"GLORY! GLORY!"

"THE PERILS OF NADINE"

The story begins in the parlor of Minnie Spry's Curl Up and Dye Beauty Parlor. Here we learn that Nadine Fallwell's Aunt Charlene has just been kidnapped. Later, we find that Charlene and her husband, Bernard, have planned the kidnapping in order to get Nadine's $1 million dollar trust fund.

"I have to pay a ransom for Aunt Charlene!"

Thomas Albright — "I'll save the day!"

"Happy ransom day!"

"Look on the bright side of life!"

Our hero, Thomas Albright, arrives to find out the truth behind the kidnapping. He sees Nadine and falls in love. Unfortunately, Bernard decides to kidnap Detective Albright. Now poor Nadine doesn't have a date to her birthday party.

Poor Nadine!

"The Perils of Nadine (Bound for Glory)" presented by the Purple Victory I Cast, had an original script based on a not so original theme. Audiences never seem to tire of "love conquers all . . . "

Susan Fleming

Detective Albright finally convinces Charlene to let him escape so that he can stop Bernard from collecting the ransom at Nadine's party. Charlene cannot allow Bernard to steal her niece's rightful inheritance.

At Nadine's party, Bernard anxiously awaits the delivery of the million dollar ransom. Luckily, Charlene and Detective Albright arrive to save the day. Bernard is apprehended, returing justice to Glory. Nadine and Detective Albright are then united.

"Both productions were remarkably good. I was amazed that the students were able to write and produce such excellent plays in such a short time and with so little money. They are all to be commended for what I feel is a remarkable effort."

"SISTERHOOD" "FROM HERE TO FRATERNITY"

The show takes place in the sorority house of Beta Theta Psi set in Grand Prairie University, outside of Dallas, Texas. Allyson Anderson is deeply in love with Sigma Phi Chuck Callahan. Secretly he feels the same. However, Babs Bloomquist causes problems for the lovers.

Miss Twillingham remembers lost love in "Seasons."

"I told you to watch out for Babs!"

"Howdy Ma'am! I'm a Sigma Phi!"

"SISTERHOOD!"

The brothers of Sigma Phi come to the sorority house to practice a skit. Babs steals Chuck's fraternity pin to make herself "irresistible" to all the guys on campus. Unfortunately, all the Greeks think Chuck and Babs are really going steady, including Allyson.

"You went and did it! Now you're gonna get it!"

Later that night, Chuck's fraternity brothers haze him for giving Babs his fraternity pin. They then leave Chuck outside the Beta Theta Psi Sorority House. When Allyson finds him, they both confess their love for each other.

"The choreography in the Gold production was excellent, especially in 'Season' and the Finale".

The next morning, as the students make preparations to go home, sirens are heard. Then the radio makes the announcement that President Kennedy has been shot. The lights fade and each character reveals the changes in their lives after the assassination.

The show ended with "From Here to Fraternity", expressing a desire for peace.

"Both productions were remarkably good . . . They were spirited, entertaining, and a sheer pleasure to watch".

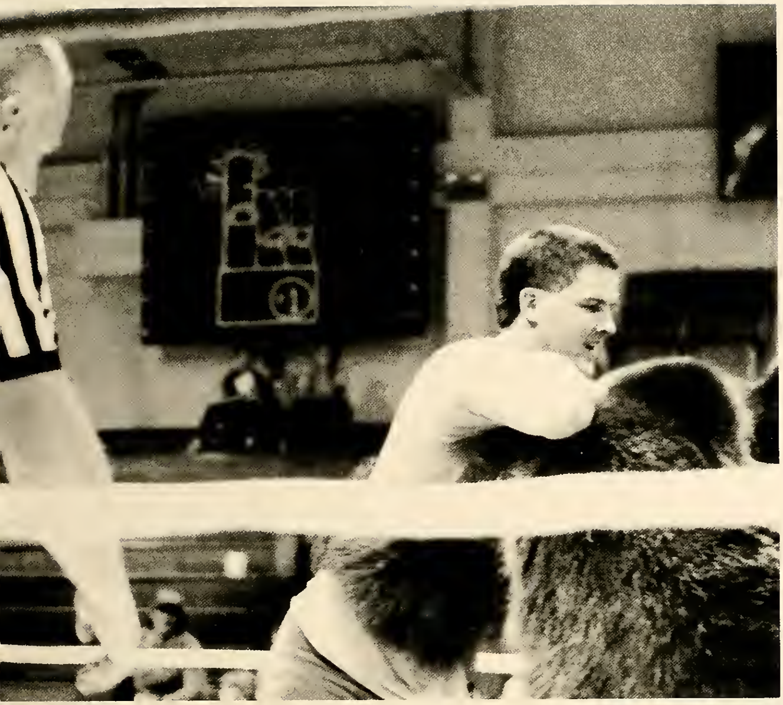
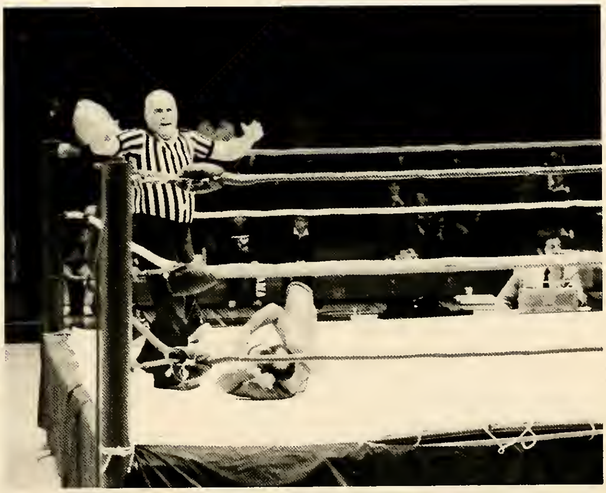
Just Grin and "BEAR" It!

Help! The phrase "a bear hug" is given a whole new twist in this scene. This student is definitely giving all to charity.



The Fall Semester of 1988 was a semester to remember. Who could forget the day the fraternities wrestled a bear . . . a what?

Several UM fraternities wrestled a ferocious grizzly to benefit charity. Because of these brave young men, area charities received generous donations.



Myrick Gym has been the stting for many athletic events. However, the day the bear arrived was probably the most unusual. Many students (especially the participants) will remember this day for many years to come.

TRUTH!

The musical ministry of Truth came to the University of Montevallo during the Fall Semester. UM's Baptist Student Union and Student Government Association joined together to make this concert a success.

During the performance, several students were invited onto the stage to sing with the choir. Needless to say, Truth's powerful message remained on the minds of students long after the night was over.

I'M RICH!

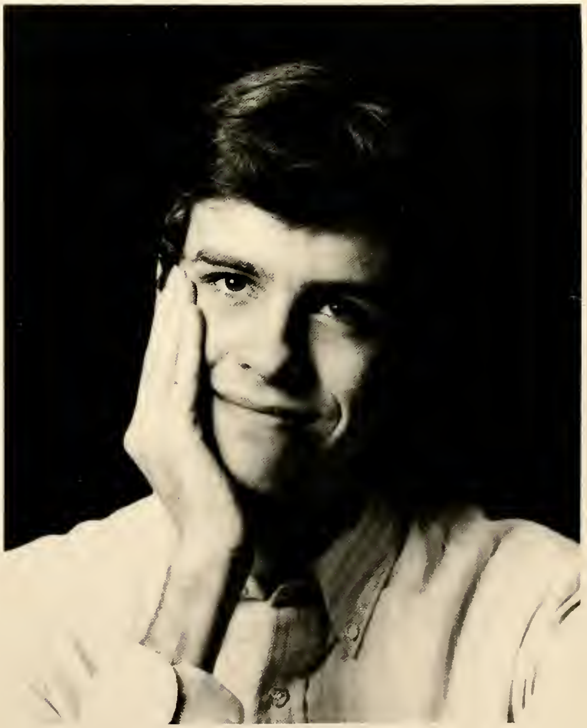
Once again Cobblestone Productions brought to UM a new and exciting afternoon of entertainment. Blizzard of Bucks gave a few lucky students a chance to win extra money in the Blizzard of Bucks money machine. Onlookers cheered the contestants on their attempt to grab as much money as possible. The afternoon gave UM students a chance to relax and forget about classes for a few hours.

"Little Mary Sunshine"

Rick Besoyan's "Little Mary Sunshine" was presented in LeBaron Recital Hall April 6-8 by the University of Montevallo Theatre and Music departments.

The delightful musical was a spoof of the classic Jeanette McDonald-Nelson Eddy movies. It featured virtuous heroines and fearless heros as well as evil villains. The production was directed by Dr. Benjamin Middaugh.

Comedy Alive



"Light Up the Sky"

On April 19-22, Moss Hart's "Light Up the Sky" was presented in Reynolds Theater. The play was an amusing comedy about a Broadway company that opened a show "out of town" in Boston. The eccentric characters in Hart's fictional theatrical company made this production one to remember.

A Sticky Situation

Beware of Senior March

Each fall, on a particularly dark and ominous evening, the Tower chimes the dreaded song "Pray for the dead and the dead will pray for you." Then begins the Senior March. Freshmen are captured by the Seniors and initiated into UM by the liberal use of shaving cream, detergent, chocolate syrup, and eggs. However, once initiated, these ladies may participate again their Senior year. Only this time, a midnight trip to the showers will not be necessary.

Seniors march around the Tower as eager Freshmen await their fate.

Here we see various stages of the stickiest tradition on campus. Freshmen are covered with every type of sticky, gooey food imaginable. Welcome to UM!

Is This The Cafe?

Each semester the cafeteria becomes a showplace. Students enter a world of elegance — complete with balloons, candlelight, tablecloths and fabulous food. "Something Different for Dinner" allows students to get a break from the usual routine of cafeteria life to have a unique dining experience. Students certainly agree that this event is the highlight of cafeteria dining.

Something different for Dinner is a special time for all — individual students, couples, and families.

Groups of friends join together for SDFD to enjoy the food, the atmosphere, and the spirit of the occasion. This spirit cannot be compared to any other cafeteria event — until the next semester.

Any Questions?
Attend UM's Information Fair

LAMBDA DELTA

Each year, the University of Montevallo holds an information fair. This year was no exception. Booths lined the cafeteria — filled with students, faculty, and staff waiting to answer a wide variety of questions about clubs, organizations, Greeks, and special services offered at UM. Many students took advantage of this unique opportunity to learn more about what the University of Montevallo has to offer. Hopefully, these students left the fair with a better idea of what UM is all about.

(Above) The Information Fair provided an exellent opportunity for students to find out more about the Greek organizations on campus. Several representatives from each group were on hand to answer questions and to encourage students to 'Go Greek."

(Right) Campus ministry groups were also well represented at the Information Fair. Groups like the Baptist Student Union, The Wesley Foundation, and Catholic Campus Ministry encouraged students to become involved in UM's religious organizations.

A Land of Enchantment

The Children's Theatre Production of Land of the Dragon delighted area children as well as many university students. Palmer Hall was filled with excited youngsters who awaited the appearance of the magical dragon. As the show came to life, fantasy became reality. Land of the Dragon took the audience into a land of enchantment.

"The Glass Menagerie"

During the Fall Semester, "The Glass Menagerie" was presented in Reynolds Hall. The performance was an excellent portrayal of the Tennessee William's classic play of the Wingfield Family. The plot centers around the plight of Laura, the young girl who cannot escape her obsession with her "crippled" leg. This obesession leads her into a separation from reality and into the fragile world of her collection of glass.

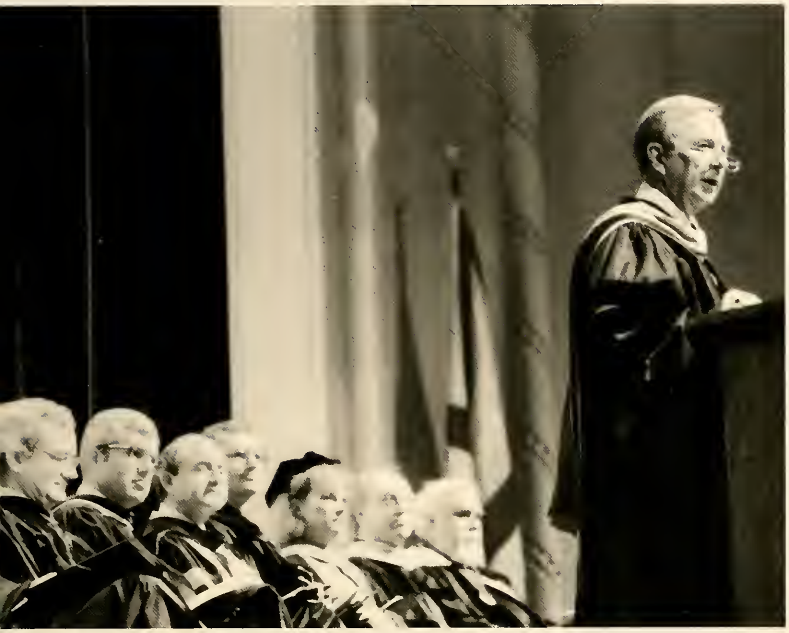
Founders Day



Each year at the University of Montevallo, students and faculty celebrate the founding of UM. The 92nd annual observance of Founders Day was held October 13, 1988. Activities included the annual spruce-up day, the robing of Seniors ceremony, and an afternoon picnic on the quad featuring the music of Telluride.

Students were allowed to participate in a variety of Founders Day activities. From the ceremony in Palmer Hall (top — left) to an afternoon picnic with Telluride (bottom — left, center — right), UM students enjoyed a welcome break from classes.

The 1989 pageant was held in Palmer Auditorium and hosted by 1988 Miss Alabama Jenny Jackson. Freshman Angela McClure assumed the title of Miss Montevallo after Carol Ann Foley was asked to relinquish her crown because she was not a U.S. citizen. However, Miss Foley was allowed to keep her scholarship for winning the talent portion of the pageant.

It's Squeal Day!

Over one hundred anxious young ladies wait outside of Palmer Hall to receive their bids for sororities (top). Once bids were announced, the new pledges excitedly "squealed" and ran to greet their new sisters (bottom — left).

The beginning of the school year once again was filled with squeals of delight as rushees became pledges during UM's annual Squeal Day. Rushees excitedly gathered on the steps of Palmer Hall, hoping to receive a bid from their favorite sorority. Gradually, the bids were given. Eager new pledges rushed to greet their active sisters and begin their "new life" as a Greek.

Honors Day

Honors Day was held April 13, 1989. The University of Montevallo recognized those students whose achievements in academics and leadership were exceptional. Morning convocation was held in Palmer Hall to honor students and their families. Dr. Pat Ernest was the speaker for the occasion. Her words inspired many students to continue their quest for excellence. That afternoon, individual colleges held ceremonies to recognize students in each college.

Graduation

Fall Commencement

Graduation is a day that students strive toward with anticipation, excitement, and joy. After years of hard work, that special day finally arrives. It is this moment that will create a memory that lasts forever. Over 130 students made the dream of graduation a reality during Fall Commencement.

Vacca Professor Dr. Ndiawar Saar was the keynote speaker. Dr. Saar, UM's visiting scholar from Senegal, West Africa, stressed the importance of foreign language, intercultural studies, geography, and literature in today's world. Through these, man can gain a better understanding of other cultures.

Spring Commencement

Graduation is the crest of the collegiate experience. Over 200 University of Montevallo students became a part of Spring Commencement exercises, the first spring graduation in over ten years to be held indoors. Unfortunately, rain forced the ceremony to be held in Palmer Auditorium rather than on the front lawn of Flowerhill. However, the joy of the graduates and their famlies were not ended by the unusual circumstances.

Former Alabama Governor Albert P. Brewer was the speaker. He told students that Alabamians should not be satisfied with what we are. We should look toward what we can be. Brewer stressed that the solution lies with our graduates, the leaders of the future.

A smile, a laugh, a tear
A friend for all the years

Memories of happy carefree days
Memories of other less joyful ways

But through it all — happy or sad
I've always been more than glad—

And it's important to say
That you've given me more than I could ever repay

You'll always be a special friend
That no time or distance could ever end.

UNIVERSITY
MONTEVALLO

It seems wherever we go
People come into our lives —
Or go out of it — leaving us only a memory . . .
Touching us where we can feel it,
And we weren't through knowing them.
How do we halt our lives to gather and keep those around us
That we've known and loved?
How do we know when we are seeing you for the last time?
And how do you keep fairy tales from losing their magic?
And so ends an exciting chapter of your lives.
But also begins another chapter.

And though we must part, we know we can always return
To flip fondly through the gold bond leaves of our memory.
There remains so much to say, yet nothing that really needs saying.

SEE DIC

You already know. Forgive the tears . . . they are only bits of selfishness
That can be contained no longer.
We only wish to keep you a little longer within the boundaries of our friendship.
And so, thank you, for touching our lives —
For letting us know and love you.

New beginnings must come to an end as another year has pased. It was year of laughter, joy, and yes, sometimes sorrow. Good times and bad, we've shared them all. But, do new beginnings really come to an end? We don't think so — See you next year!
